WOMAN ALIGHTED ON HER HEAD

MISS ANNA LEE LILES DANGEROUSLY INJURED AT HER HOME.

PLUNGING HORSE SCARED HER INTO LEAPING

FRED ROMAINE PAINFULLY HURT BY FALLING WHILE TRYING TO CATCH STREET CAR.

Limb of Frank Dargal is Now in Splints and Plaster Paris Cast At Cairo Hospital

Miss Anna Lee, off 1004 Harrison street, lies at her home injured quite seriously on account of leaping from a vehicle (Wednesday night at Wallace park where she had gone with Messrs. James Davis and Elmer Jones and Miss Carrie Collie. She has been unconscious most of the time since the accident, but was resting better this morning early.

The horse attached to the surrey the quartet was occupying became scared at the loud explosion of the bombs, and while the excited beast was plunging around Miss Lee jumped out, alighting on her head upon a rock. Her head was cut badly and she was rendered unconscious. She is the popular bookkeeper for Mr. T. E. Grasty's loan company of South Fourth street.

Deep Gash in Head.

Fred Romaine, the cigarmaker, yesterday morning tried to leap aboard a street car a Fourth and Broadway when he fell, his head receiving a five inch gash by striking the brick of the paved street. He is now confined at his room above the saloon at Fourth and Kentucky avenue where he maintains his cigar shop. The blow rendered him unconscious, and he suffers from concussion of the brain.

Keeps Improving.

Word from Cairo is that Mr. Frank Dargal continues improving at the infirmary where he has remained for two weeks now as the result of getting accidentally shot by the negro Hardin Davis while the latter was firing at the street car conductor. The doctors have put the injured limb of Mr. Dargal in plaster of Paris and splints, where it will be kept until the bone commences knitting properly, it being shattered somewhat by the bullet that still lites imbedded therein.

Paralytic Sent Home.

H. B. Hill was yesterday sent back to Marshall county by the city, being a paralyzed pauper who came from there the day before, and has no people or funds.

Facial Paralysis.

Miss Linda Duigudi, of West Broadway, is suffering from a paralytic attack of the face.

Pushed From Car.

Mr. J. G. Bauer, employe of the pottery, is confined at home with severe bruises caused by someone pushing him from a street car at Seventh and Broadway. He was knocked unconscious.

Broke Right Leg.

James Ferguson of 308 Hayes avenue in Mechanicsburg, broke his right leg yesterday morning while loading wood in his wagon.

Bring Son Home.

Mr. Miller Bradshaw, the shoe drummer, is confined down in Arkansas with an attack of typhoid fever which overcame him out upon one of his trips. His mother, Mrs. Edward B. Bradshaw, of West Monroe street, will go to his bedside to bring him home next week.

Returned Home.

Mr. Charles M. Sands of this city returned yesterday from Pueblo, Colo., where he has been sojourning for some months on account of lung trouble. He is preparing to go to another climate for this cause.

the saddle watching the game.

Thomas Reichert, the star batter of the benedicts, hit the ball for a home run.

The ball struck Rockett on the head.

Everybody laughed—but Rockett. He was dazed.

But the game was exciting and all eyes were centered on the players. Rockett was forgotten.

Presently the big gray began reighing in that peculiar tone which indicates distress. The players then noticed that Policeman Rockett had fallen from the saddle and was lying on the ground. The horse was walking around the prostrate form of his master and touching him with his nose, whinneying gently, as if to arouse him and receive some sign of recognition.

The ball players rushed to the rescue. But Dan would not allow any one to come near his master. He walked around and around the fallen Rockett and his heels went into the air a few times as a warning for everybody to keep away.

A doctor was called and when Dan saw the physician with his medicine case he whinnied approvingly.

Rockett was found to be suffering from a slight concussion of the brain. He was taken to the Norwood Hospital, where he was soon revived. Dan insisted on following the doctor's carriage to the hospital door.

THE FINEST HORSES IN THE WORLD

The John Robinson Circus Leads all Other Shows in the Ownership of Thoroughbred Horses.

If you are inclined to be a little horsey and love a well bred nag you owe the John Robinson Shows a visit for they have the finest collection of thoroughbred stock ever carried by a tented exhibition and the outlay has been a generous one judging from the number and quality. Every grade of horse is represented from the satin coated Arabian, to the smallest of Shetland Ponies and the American stud book contains many names of racers and hunters which find homes with this acknowledged world's oldest and richest tented show. The advance printing tells of their coming for two performances on Saturday, July 14th and the usual capacity business will be the order it is safe to predict.

WARRANT DISMISSED

JAMES EDWARDS RELEASED BY THE POLICE COURT JUDGE.

Al Winfrey Was Given a Continuance of the Case Charging Him With Robbery.

Acting Judge Dave Cross in the police court yesterday morning dismissed the warrant charging James Edwards with cutting Douglas Pryor during a fight.

Gene Cecil and Will Wilkerson, colored, were given continuances until tomorrow of the case charging them with taking a suit of clothing away from a small boy at Fourth and Madison streets last Saturday night.

There was laid over until today the warrant charging Al Winfrey with stealing the watch from a country man in the Kentucky saloon about Second and Kentucky avenue.

A fine of $25 and ten days jail sentence was given Will Bishop on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The breach of the peace warrants were disposed of as follows: Maggie Dabney, fined $5 and costs; Douglas Pryor fined $10; Ida Lewis, fined $5; Willie Falkner, dismissed; James McBride, fined $10.

Fred Hawkins was fined $5 and George Berry $1, each for using insulting language.

Will Hamilton was fined $20 and costs for being drunk and disorderly in one case, while another warrant of this kind was continued until tomorrow.

The disorderly conduct charge of Will Butler cost him a $20 fine.

C. Eddings, Ed Cox and Tom Clark were each fined $1 for being drunk.

The breach of ordinance warrant against Willie Emerson, colored, was continued until today.

Snake River.

The world is less familiar with the Snake river of Idaho than with any other river of importance in the United States, and yet it is our seventh largest river—more than 100 miles long. It is one of the most wonderful and impressive waterways in the world. The few who have tried to follow its winding course through the wild and forbidding extents so little is known of it, for no railroads traverse the lifeless desert that borders it, and no boats for hundreds of miles at a stretch dare ply its waters. It is navigable for only 100 miles from its junction with the Columbia to the Idaho boundary and in several isolated sections of the interior. For the greater part of its course it flows through old and magnificent canons of its own making, through desolate and awful wastes, the result of vomiting craters and of convulsions of the earth—World's Work.

bought suits to annual the leases and that these suits are still pending in the circuit court.

Not in Casino For Year.

Taggart vowed to Attorney General Miller yesterday that he had not been in the casino connected with his hotel for a year. Miller suggested that if he was anxious to get rid of his tenant he might furnish the state with teams to move the gambling paraphernalia. Taggart smiled blandly and said he was sorry, but all his teams were busy putting up hay.

The following gambling paraphernalia was seized:

Taggart's Monte Carlo—Nineteen 5c 25 and 50 cent slot machines of extravagant designs, four roulette tables, the famous French Lick book-makers club wheel, two poker tables, two Klondike tables, one faro table, complete paraphernalia for making hooks on horse racing, many bushels of chips, cards and dice and "membership" cards.

At West Baden—Six roulette tables, one wheel, the West Baden club table and wheel, two poker tables, a keno game outfit, thirteen elaborate 5, 25 and 50 cent slot machines, a complete pool making outfit and other similar equipment, enough to crowd a large freight car.

LITTLE OVER $70,000 TAKEN

THIS IS THE AMOUNT OF PREMIUMS FOR FIRST SIX MONTHS.

The Fire Sprinkling System Will Be Done At Basket Factory When Ironwork Gets Here.

Commissioner C. C. Rose, of the fire insurance bureau maintained here, yesterday completed making out his report showing the amount of premiums taken in during the first six months of this year. The total is a fraction over $70,000, which is considerable of an increase over the same period during 1905 when the companies took in $54,558 in premiums. Mr. Rose is now figuring the amount of losses sustained the first six months by the companies, and when this is completed can then calculate the net profits of the companies between last January and the first of this month.

Waiting For Iron.

The fire sprinkling outfit at the Mechanicsburg basket factory is complete with exception of some iron work being awaited from the Eastern factories. The sprinkling system is of the kind when a fire breaks out in the building, the factory is flooded with water and the blaze is extinguished. The fire insurance rate on the industry is so high this system is installed with object of getting a reduction of rates.

Just as soon as the ironwork arrives from the East, it will be installed and the plant completed. It is the only system of its kind in the city.

Banquet For Agents.

Mr. Lewis L. Bebout, the insurance man, yesterday received word that July 17th President John R. Bland of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore, would be in Louisville, at which time a banquet will be given every agent in Kentucky, the company to defray all expenses incidental. M. Bebout represents the company in this city, and he and other representatives over the state will participate in the gathering, to meet the president.

PLAIN FACTS

Superiority of Quality is the Test.

MOST BEER, no matter by whom brewed, is clean, pure and sterilized.

Cleanliness is accepted as a rule of self-preservation in every reputable brewery.

Purity signifies nothing more than the absence of foreign matter.

An experienced brewer would no more boast of the purity and cleanliness of his beer than a gentleman would brag of having washed his face.

Many pure, clean beers, however, are not good beers.

A really first-class beer must not only be free from self-evident defects, but it must combine all the positive excellencies known to the science of brewing.

For these reasons brewers who do not dare to test the substantial merits of beer harp on purity.

The true test is QUALITY which cannot be had without superior materials, perfect treatment and ample storing capacity.

Upon this issue of positive SUPERIORITY of QUALITY we challenge all competitors.

Of materials we use only the most excellent, regardless of cost. Corn, the one important substitute, which, on account of its cheapness, has been extensively adopted by many brewers, never enters our brewery.

Our facilities for brewing beer are unequalled.

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels doubles any other brewery in the United States, and enables us to store our beer from four to five months.

Facts speak louder than words.
Publicity is the demand of the consumer.

Excursion Comes Next Sunday From Evansville—Mr. Harry Savage
Returned From Painters' Conference.

It is more than probable that some of the big railroads of the country have something definite in hand regarding extending their system through this section of the state, as farmers from down several miles below Mazon's Mill report that for three weeks civil engineers have been in that vicinity, making surveys and getting the lay of the land. Several days ago the engineering party of about ten was joined by a delegation of fine looking men to look over the land.

The engineers and others refuse to divulge their identity, and will not state what they are making the surveys for, or give any information whatever as to who they are, or the object of their work.

As they go along with their surveys they drive their little stakes used by civil engineers, and the farmers have traced these small posts from the bank of the Ohio river, opposite Joppa, Ill., below here, back through McCracken county for five-teen or twenty miles.

Bert Johnson, supervisor of county roads for McCracken, has just returned from a tour of that section, and tried to learn what the engineers were there for, but failed. In addition to land surveys the engineers "sounded" the Ohio river all the way across from the Kentucky side to Joppa opposite.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad has its terminal at Joppa, being controlled by the Frisco system, and it may be the survey has some bearing on the rumored entrance of that line into this city. For the past few weeks civil engineers have been around Metropolis, Brook-port, Ill., and other points of that section, making exhaustive surveys also, but they refuse to give anything out, just like the party now on this side of the river.

Big Excursion Coming.
Next Sunday a big excursion comes here from Evansville, Ind., getting to Paducah early in the morning and returning late in the afternoon.

Goes to Chicago.
Mr. Feeny, the fireman, goes to Chicago next week to consult a specialist regarding his injured foot, which was hurt nearly two years ago during a wreck, and from which he has never recovered. He will consult eminent specialists of the Windy City as to what is necessary, and returning here, have Chief Surgeon Murrell of the railroad hospital operate. The Paducah surgeon has been treating him for months and succeeded in assisting him greatly,
but it is a peculiar case.

Painters' Contract.
Mr. Harry Savage has returned from Chicago where he attended as Paducah's delegate, the conference held by painters from over the Illinois Central, with the road management. During the meeting the officials granted the painters at Paducah, McComb City, Miss., Mattoon, Ill., and Water Valley, Miss., an increase of wages ranging from one cent to one and three-quarters cent per hour.

HENTS.
Such odd things in shoes have been brought out by the mad search for "something different!" Pumps, or "ribbon ties," which have the ribbon laced through two great eyelets at the side, instead of the time-honored, rational way of directly in front, for instance.

Gaiters are still with us, in spite of the rapid approach of summer, but the newest are of linen, out of deference to that approach. Every color under the sun is represented and matched in some sort of a shoe, to see just what can express the strength of color better.

Pin buckles grow more popular because the greater convenience of using them is becoming more and more apparent all the while. There's no bothering to change a buckle from ribbon to ribbon or from belt to belt.

For the Round Trip to

Dr. Wiley's Experts to Eat Steaks and Eggs Frozen Many Years.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—With meat that has been in cold storage for twelve years; with chickens that have been in cold storage for a week, and with fruits and vegetables and eggs that have been frozen through many summers, Dr. Wiley, the pure food expert of the agricultural department, today began his experiments with cold storage foodstuffs.
His class of food experts, the young scientists and clerks in his employ, upon whom he tries doctored and imitation edibles, will have their first chicken dinner on Thursday. Then every three months for the next two years there will be a day when their diet will consist only of chicken. To furnish the chicken necessary one hundred and fifty "broilers" were today placed in cold storage. There will be eaten Thursday that have not been in cold storage. When the chickens are out of the way, a number being used at different times for microscopical investigations, Dr. Wiley will be able to say just how long chickens will keep in cold storage.

One-Year Limit for Meats.
Dr. Wiley today said that the indications point to about a year as the limit of time for meats, and possibly a shorter time for fowls and game to remain in cold storage. There are experiments being made both with drawn and undrawn game and chickens, and the result will, of course, have a decided effect on the ultimate market for such materials.

It is said that from an ethical point of view it does not seem fair that any organization should be able to store food products for a term of years and thus influence the markets and put a tax on future generations of farmers by holding over their heads a reserve supply of low temperature food.

It is thought, too, that the experiments will prove that about a year at most is the limit to which food can be safely stored and that this from a moral point of view would seem to be perfectly legitimate, merely holding the supply over from one season to the next.

Inspect Cold Storage Eggs.
Among other things, the cold storage egg is going to come in for examination. It is alleged that there are some eggs now in cold storage that have apparently been given a life sentence, and there are rumors that some of the "lifters" have already been in for a decade. It is said in the interests of humanity that there should be a limit to this sort of thing, and that life sentences for eggs should be straightway commuted, and even some time taken off the long term sentences for good behavior.

The work on fruit storage is about finished, and it has been found that fruits can be kept in storage for from four to six months and improve right along. After they have reached perfection, however, they deteriorate rapidly. The department has been able to plot a curve showing the course of change that fruits in cold storage undergo. If they are not put in too ripe they are at their best after they have been in up to six months.

LINGERIE HANDBAGS
ART NOW THE FAD.

Handbags have never played so important a part in the world of fashion as at the present time.
No street costume is considered complete without its accompanying bag, and to be at all smart it must match the gown, or at least harmonize with it. Modish women are not content with a single bag, but they provide as many as they have gowns to carry them with.

While it is true that bags were never so fashionable, it is also true that they were never so handsome.
No woman would dream of carrying one of the old, stiff, artistic bags that were in fashion even two seasons ago. Today her bag must be as beautiful as any other part of her costume.

Labor Organizations in Politics.

The action of the Central Labor Union last night in taking up the matter of labor organizations going into politics is a move in the right direction if followed out on conservative lines and conducted for the specific purpose of remedying evils or burdens imposed upon its members or the general public. Primarily labor organizations are for the purpose of regulating matters that directly affect the individual member and his trade, and as such they have been very successful; in the political field, however, the incentive to act as a whole is not so great as in following out the primary purpose, yet no valid reasons whatever exist to prevent the members of those organizations from cooperating and working as a unit upon such issues and measures as may be of vital importance at the time. As to representations in the government of cities, states or the nation they are entitled to representation whether they enter politics as an organization or not, and to a certain extent are so recognized.

The question in general of labor organizations going into politics, is not our purpose at this time to discuss, but the action of the local central labor body is of peculiar interest to the people of this city. It is a fact beyond dispute that the corporations of Paducah dominate the present general council. Although one thousand citizens have petitioned that body to give the people a vote on municipal ownership of a water and a light plant, four aldermen block the way and refuse to permit the people to have that privilege. They are either serving the corporations or the people. Which?

The question of municipal ownership is a burning issue in Paducah and through the allies of the corporations have thwarted the people for a while, neither The Register nor the people have for one moment abandoned the fight. The refusal of the four aldermen to grant the people the privilege asked for has only served to incense the advocates of municipal ownership all the more, and at the November election a ticket will be in the field that will represent the people, and that ticket will be elected. There are thousands of voters in this city who are determined that the corporations shall no longer rule the general council of this city, and of that number of citizens fully 75 per cent are members of the labor organizations.

The burdens of taxation and corporation privileges coupled with the high rates that monopolies are enabled to maintain falls the heaviest on the consumer, and it is a self-evident fact that working men of this city are the ones who are carrying the burden, and the determination for them to go into politics is the only way by which they may obtain relief. They may expect to be denounced by the corte of franchise grabbers in Paducah and es-are put in the general council that gang will change its tune. The laboring man has as much right in politics as the capitalist, in fact he has a better right for he seeks a square deal, while the capitalist only seeks to fill his coffers at the expense of the public.

The Register would warn the mechanic to steer clear of the professional politician and the disorganizer, who are but the hirelings of the corporations; that gang will not give up the soft snap of squeezing dollars out of the public without a bitter fight; they will seek to have men discharged and in every way imaginable to dominate or crush him; they will boycott him and hound him, but when their own weapons are turned on them they will whine persecution. Unless the labor organizations expect to enlist for the full term of the war, the members had just as well stand back and continue to be subject to the domination of the franchise grabbers. But on the other hand if they mean business, and to stand upon their rights as free born Americans, they must perfect an organization, get into the fray and regard every man who is not for municipal ownership to be against it. The issue is a simple one—The Corporations versus The People. The general council refused to heed the petition of the people, now let the matter be settled at the November election.

Ex-Banker Bigelow's Plaint.

The friends of ex-Banker Bigelow, the bank wrecker of Milwaukee, now serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary are seeking a pardon on the grounds of his health failing. Bigelow should have thought of these things when he was stealing the money belonging to others. Penitentiary life is no harder on men like Bigelow, than on the average convict.

Men like Bigelow lived on the best in the land and were surrounded with all of the comforts and luxuries of life, and now he is paying the penalty. We do not blame his friends for wishing his release, nor his whole life and present distressing circumstances should serve as a warning to all bankers and other men entrusted with the custody of other men's money. Bigelow had an ambition to be rich and powerful; he stood high socially and in church affairs, yet he was committing crimes all along. Other bank presidents and cashiers are going the same pace; they are known to be men of very moderate means, yet they are going the pace of men of great wealth in their business deals. Common sense tells that they are not doing it with their own money and some day a bad trade or deal will be made and then comes the fight to keep out of the penitentiary.

Bigelow now realizes that it would have been much easier for him to have kept out of the penitentiary by living an honest life, than it is to get out after being put there by the laws of the country. Bigelow ranked as one of the leading financiers of the middle west, but he fell, and so it is with the hundreds who are doing business on the same lines. The safest plan for every man or woman with money, is to steer clear of banks whose officers are going a pace above that allowed by their means. The exposure will come in due time.

The board of education of Chicago favors the printing of all books used in the public schools being done by the board. The book trust has become so powerful and arrogant that it dominates the election of a number of trustees and by the constant changes in text books the people are virtually robbed of millions of dollars each year.

John D. Rockefeller attended a horse race for the first time in his life July 4, so the dispatches aver. The gentleman became quite enthusiastic and went all galls except betting. If his fortune proves burdensome and he wishes to get rid of it he might buy a few stable horses and try his luck on the maker said at the Tammany Hall of the Fourth, the trusts, the insurance frauds, the packing house scandals and campaign contributions suited us exactly. He said:

"Not only has the tariff system destroyed equality of taxation, closed the door of industrial opportunity, and practiced extortion on our people, but it has also been and must continue to be the rotten center of an ever-widening circle of corruption. The Chicago packers paid into the Republican campaign treasury the price of the duty on hides, and felt safe in poisoning communities; the insurance companies of this state made contributions with which they purchased peace at Albany; the Pennsylvania railroad purchased immunity for years from the law forbidding the railroads to engage in the business of mining coal; and the ship subsidy gang will pay their money to help elect a Republican congress which will pass a ship subsidy bill."

The federal grand jury at Nashville has taken up the investigation of the tobacco trust, and the proceedings will prove of great interest to all tobacco growers and rehandlers in this section. The Tobacco Growers Protective association has brought sufficient pressure on the government to take up the matter and a strong fight will be made against the trust.

NEW OFFICERS FOR MANGUM

BRETHREN INDUCTED NEW OFFICIALS INTO RESPECTIVE PLACES.

All Arrangements Have Been Completed by Knights of Columbus for Trip to Cairo.

Last evening the newly elected noble grand and vice grand for Mangum lodge of Odd Fellows were installed in their respective positions during the meeting of the lodge at the fraternity building. Samuel Cohn is the noble grand and Joseph E. Potter the vice grand, and after the induction the noble grand named the following appointive officers to serve with him for the ensuing six months: L. M. McNeill, right support; J. A. Warford, left support; C. G. Kelly, conductor; G. W. Warren, warden; B. Z. Umbaugh, right support to noble grand; Frank S. Digel, chaplain; James Householder, right support to vice grand; James Downs, left support to vice grand.

Ingleside Lodge.

This evening at their meeting at the fraternity building the members of Ingleside lodge of Odd Fellows will install their recently elected noble grand and vice grand, and during the gathering the former names the appointive officers.

Knights of Columbus.

At Wednesday night's meeting of the Knights of Columbus of this city, arrangements were finished for the trip to Cairo next Sunday, at which time the Paducah brethren will participate in the big meeting to be held by the lodge there, and during which coming session a big class of candidates will be initiated into the secrets of the organization.

A special train will leave here at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, carrying the Paducah delegation which will go down about 100 strong. The class to be initiated down there will be about fifty and the ceremonies take until midnight, when the local party returns. Any one can go down on the special train whether a member or not if they pay the fare.

—Rev. R. H. Pique will preach tonight at the new Methodist church on Goebel avenue. Assigning twelve scriptural reasons Why He is a Methodist. Every one invited.

WHAT A NEW YORK PAPER THINKS OF KENTUCKY.

Says the New York Post: As a mother of statesmen, Kentucky has done very well since her admission to the union in 1792. Ninety-six Kentuckians have served in congress from other states, and one president, Lincoln, has gone out from her hills. Missouri has drawn most liberally upon the Bluegrass state for law-making talent. Eight United States senators from Missouri have been Kentuckians, including Atchison, Blair, John B. Clark, Vest and Stone and seventeen members of the lower house; Champ Clark was born in Anderson county. "Dick" Yates was a native of Warsaw; Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago, went from Fayette county, and Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, first breathed the air of the Bluegrass in Scotland. Lincoln and Yates has given to Illinois Senator Cullom and Adlai Stevenson. Every governor elected in twenty-eight years from 1860 to 1888, in Illinois, was a native of Kentucky. Daniel P. Cook, for whom Cook county, (the city of Chicago) was named, came from Kentucky, as well as Jo Daviess and other men who became prominent enough to have counties take their names. Over 62,000 Kentuckians still live in Illinois. The new senator from Washington, Samuel H. Piles, is a native; Benton McMillan, of Tennessee, a former governor and Henry S. Lane, former governor of Indiana are also credited to Kentucky; Jefferson Davis was from Christian county and so the list goes on.

My commission expires February 23, 1910.

Kentucky history has been full of attractive figures since Daniel Boone pushed out into the wilderness and founded Boonesborough. As Finckle county the region was a loose appendage of Virginia. As Kentucky county it grew a little more definite in character, and when it set up a state on its own account it was well able to take the buffeting that pioneer states were subject to.

With the possible exception of Virginia, the history of no American commonwealth embodies more of romance and picturesque interest than Kentucky. The type of the pioneers who first crossed the mountains and proceeded to plant civilization in the wilderness was of a singularly high sort. Men who had been impoverished by the revolutionary war, in which they displayed the highest qualities of courage and capability, came west to repair their shattered fortunes and so it was that the political beginnings of the commonwealth were marked by a degree of personal firing and the broad statesmanship enjoyed by practically no other state in the union. The men who composed the first government of Kentucky, which met in 1792, was far above the average.

So the Lincoln and Davises and the Culloms had sturdy political ancestors.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

It is possible to spend as large a sum as one desires on a handsome bag. It is also possible to spend a very small sum. It is a comfort to the woman of small allowance that the pretty patterns are not confined exclusively to the costly bags. Some of the inexpensive ones are charming.

One of the pretty fancies of the season is the lingerie bag of white all-over embroidery to carry with the white gown. These bags are inexpensive and highly effective. They can be cleaned very easily.

Belts are beautiful and varied. It is no trouble at all to find matches for gowns this year.

The white lingerie belt is inconspicuous, and at present is one of the best sellers. A white embroidered belt with a metal buckle may be had as cheap as 10 cents. Belts of this style are desirable with white linen and duck skirts.

White kid belts with pretty buckles are only 50 cents.

There is a large assortment of white silk belts, which, however, do not seem so appropriate with the wash gowns. For use with the dainty white swisses and mulls the ribbon belts and girdles are the most attractive.

For wear with the multitude of walking skirts there are plain leather belts in every conceivable shade. The leather belt is most appropriate for the walking costume.

Dr. Ernst, a Metz physician, has been decorated by the Pope with the order of Saint Gregory for maintaining, at a conference of medical men, that the best cure for lupus is a visit to Lourdes, and the use of the Lourdes water.

Wasps rank next to ants in point of insect intelligence.

Sunday island in the Pacific is really the tallest mountain in the world. It rises 2,000 feet out of five miles of water, and is thus nearly 20,000 feet from base to summit.

MANAGER OF CAIRO TEAM FIRES THE WHOLE BUNCH

After Fining Every Member of the Club One Hundred Dollars, He Lets Them All Go For Indifferent Playing and Then Skips Out.

GUY EICHENBERGER MADE TEMPORARY MANAGER

DIRECTORS OF CAIRO CLUB AND ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION COME TO RESCUE AND PLAYERS PROMISE TO STAY TWO DAYS IN ORDER THAT FUNDS MAY BE RAISED—PADUCAH LOSES TO JACKSONVILLE—VINCENNES KEEPS WINNING.

Cairo, Ill., July 5.—A sensation was caused here today when Dan McCarthy, manager of the local team, turned quitter and gave every member of the team his discharge and fined each one $100 for indifferent ball playing.

Road Manager Ed. Eichenberger was also fined $50 for indifferent management.

A rush was made to McCarthy's office but he had anticipated this and left the city at 7 o'clock, presumably for Harrisburg.

A meeting of the directors of the Cairo base ball and Athletic association was held and Guy Eichenberger was selected as temporary manager.

The players agreed to stay here two days while an attempt to raise funds to continue the team the remainder of the season will be made. This attempt will no doubt be successful as many offers of financial assistance and have already been given to Mr. Eichenberger.

ED NOTE—A Paducahan who was in Cairo yesterday states that the reports on the streets there were to the effect that the Cairo team was drunk yesterday morning and in no condition to play ball; it is also reported that the game scheduled for yesterday was forfeited by Mattoon refusing to play.

SUFFERING ENDS IN FOREIGN LAND

COLONEL J. L. KILGORE PASSED AWAY AT OSTAND, BELGIUM, YESTERDAY.

WAS PROMINENT HERE AND ANDERSON, INDIANA

REMAINS TO BE BROUGHT BACK TO THE OLD HOME FOR INTERMENT SOON

Funeral Services This Morning Over Remains of Mr. Joseph Ashoff—Mary Booker Died Of Cough.

With deep regret will there be received in this city the news of the death early yesterday morning at Ostend, Belgium, of Col. J. L. Kilgore, who had gone for a tour of Europe in hope of improving his health that was broken down through an attack of dropsy. The cablegram reached Mr. Blaine Kilgore, his nephew, yesterday shortly after noon.

The news is received in Paducah with widespread regret, as no one was held higher or in greater estimation than the deceased gentleman. Mr. Kilgore was about sixty years of age and had resided at different points over the country, but twenty years ago located in Anderson, Ind., where he had since made his home.

He was one of the wealthiest men of that state, being possessor of a fortune of several hundred thousands of dollars, which he accumulated by thrift and energy, starting out a very poor boy.

About twenty years ago Mr. Kilgore started his barrel works here and although most of his time was spent in this city he maintained Anderson as his home, going there every few weeks to visit his family that consisted of only his wife and daughter, Mrs. Martin Norton. About four years ago the barrel factory, Hiram Blow's stove works, and the Hollinghead heading works consolidated under the head of the Paducah Copperage Co., Mr. Kilgore being the general manager until the first of this year when declining health caused him to dispose of his interests in the mammoth concern.

Two months ago he went to Louisville and entered the infirmary, being unusually feeble on departing from Paducah. A month's stay at the Falls City institution put him in good condition and he, his wife and ex-Governor Durbin and wife of Indiana, went to Europe. Last week messages were received from them announcing Mr. Kilgore's critical condition, and last Friday the daughter, Mrs. Martin Norton and husband left Anderson to attend his bedside. They have raced across this continent and are about reaching Europe aboard a trans-Atlantic liner, but did not get to his bedside before dissolution came.

This remains will be immediately shipped to this country, accompanied by the sorrowing wife, daughter and others, Mrs. Norton being communicated with after landing in Europe and arrangements made for the return. The body will be taken to Anderson for burial.

Mr. Ashoff's Funeral.
This morning at 8 o'clock the funeral services over the remains of Mr. Joseph Ashoff will occur at St. Francis de Sales church, Rev. Father Jansen officiating. Interment follows at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Child Passed Away.
Mary, the one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Booker, died of whooping cough at 412 Elizabeth street yesterday morning, and this morning the funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock, followed with interment at a cemetery out in the country.

COLLIDED WITH AUTO.
Mr. Ben Weille and Light Wagon Crashed Together Last Evening.

Last evening early Mr. Ben Weille badly damaged his automobile, while the wagon of a negro man and wife was smashed, all the result of a collision between the two vehicles near Ninth and Jefferson streets.

Mr. Weille was going one direction at a pretty fast clip, while the darkies were in their light wagon, going another, with some bundles of washed clothing.

The auto hit the wagon with force enough to nearly smash it, while the occupants were knocked out. The colored woman was badly bruised over her body, and had to be sent home in a hack. The auto is broken pretty badly also.

WERE MARRIED IN ST. LOUIS

MR. EUGENE ROBINSON AND MRS. DAISY WALTERS MARRIED.

Sunday Mrs. Rosa Frank, Formerly of This City, Was Married Braggadocio, Mo.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Daisy Walters and Mr. Eugene Robinson left for St. Louis and were united in marriage in that city. The happy twain immediately took their departure from the Future Great, and went to LaCrosse, Wis., to spend two weeks with the groom's relatives, that being his former home. They then return here to resume their abode.

The bride is a very cultured and handsome widow who resides on West Jefferson street and is very popular.

Mr. Robinson is the well known steamboat man who for a number of years has been first clerk on the steamer Clyde that plies the Tennessee river out of this city. He has been residing in this city for some years and is regarded as one of the most expert and reliable boat office managers to be found anywhere.

The nuptials will come as a surprise to their many friends as the happy groom gave it out to his many friends that he was going to his old home in Wisconsin for a visit, but he forgot to tell them that before reaching LaCrosse he would take unto himself a charming bride. During his absence Captain Frank Brown of the wharfbait is acting as first clerk of the steamer Clyde.

Formerly Lived Here.
Word from Braggadocio, Mo., is that last Sunday Mrs. Rosa Frank and Mr. E. Endsly of that city were united in marriage. The bride formerly lived in Paducah and is a sister of Mr. Elmore Iverlett of 416 Ohio street.

Luncheon On Park Grounds.
Messdames William L. Young, Aubrey Smith, and Misses Adah and Louelle Smith yesterday afternoon entertained their Broadway Methodist Sunday school classes with a picnic supper at the park where a happy time was spent by the young folks.

Frankfort Wedding.
Miss Mary Brown DuVal and Mr. George Edgar Teamstar of Frankfort, Ky., were united in marriage last evening at the state capital, and it was quite a social affair of that city, followed by the departure of the couple for Virginia on the bridal tour.

The bride is a very beautiful and accomplished young lady, exceedingly popular in Paducah society, having often visited here as the guest of Miss Ruby Corbett of North Sixth.

Outing on Steamboat.
Misses Marjorie Crumbaugh and Lulu Reed will today entertain the Sans Souci club and the young lady visitors with an outing aboard the steamer Dick Fowler, they having planned to go to Cairo and return aboard this handsome craft.

EMINENT SPECIALIST.
Dr. Harvey K. Mudd of St. Louis Here to Examine Mr. Noble.

Last evening Mr. Harvey K. Mudd of St. Louis arrived in this city to consult with the local physicians regarding the condition of Mr. Ed P. Noble whose condition remains quite serious. Dr. Mudd is one of the most eminent professional men of the West and was sent for in order a consultation could be held.

DIXIE LAND IS A HIVE OF INDUSTRY

For many years we have been accustomed to look upon the south as fairly well developed agriculturally, but diversity has been introduced in the past two decades, bringing with it increased value of farm property and farm products, said President Wade, of St. Louis, recently before the Tennessee Bankers' Association at Chattanooga.

The value of farm property in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Texas, increased $706,000,000 in 1900 over 1890. While the valuation of farm property in 1890 was $1,347,000,000 more than it was in 1880.

The south is no longer a one-crop section; it raises hogs and hominy, with cotton, and the live stock products of the southern states I have mentioned increased $142,000,000 in 1900 over 1890. The poultry now raised exceeds more than $25,000,000 annually, and the egg product sells for an amount exceeding $20,000,000 annually.

These states have over 50,000,000 chickens, 2,000,000 turkeys, 2,500,000 geese and 1,500,000 ducks.

These southern states annually produce over 200,000,000 pounds of butter, and the total value of their animal product is now $250,000,000. The total value of all their farm products annually is over $900,000,000, which exceeds that of any other section of the United States except the North Central division, composed of the upper Mississippi Valley states from the Ohio to the Dakotas.

These southern states now raise nearly 500,000,000 bushels of corn each year; they have over 18,000,000 pounds of rice annually.

While cotton is the main product of the south, yet only 44 per cent of the farms of the south now derive their principal income from cotton. Nevertheless, the cotton production of the south has shown a steady increase since the production 7,000,000 bales, nearly 20 years ago. About that time the valuation of the crop was nearly $300,000,000 a year; last year it exceeded 13,000,000 bales with a valuation of $628,000,000.

The cotton exports in 1902 amounted to 5,801,000 bales having a valuation of $258,461,000. In 1901 the export cotton amounted to 6,507,000 bales, having a valuation of $313,678,000.

The home grown cotton demand by the mills of the United States is now over 4,000,000 bales annually. In 1890 it was 2,325,000. Yet, notwithstanding this remarkable increase in cotton manufacturing, a large percentage of it in the south, we are selling to other countries more than ever before.

Agriculturally speaking, the southern states are an independent people, even of "King Cotton."

thoroughly independence of the statistics which show a constant and yearly increase of improved farm acreage. We find that the improved acreage of the farms of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia was by the government report as follows:

Improved acreage of 12 southern states:
1880 ..... 78,082,484
1890 ..... 98,663,008
1900 ..... 107,753,679

Let us see to what conclusions our figures of production and growth bring us:

The marvelous increase in the output of the manufactures of certain southern states has been placed before you in some detail. If we take only the southern states south of the Potomac and the Ohio, not including West Virginia, we find that the products of their manufactures were $450,000,000 greater in 1900 than in 1890.

If we take the increase year by year from 1890 to 1905, we find that in the aggregate they exceed $6,000,000,000.

The value of the farm products of the same state was $600,000,000 greater in 1900 than in 1890. The increase in farm products of the south, taken year by year, from 1890 to 1905, will be found to aggregate more than $4,000,000,000.

The permanent value of farm property in these states increased $1,000,000,000 in the ten years from 1890 to 1900, and at least $500,000,000 more in the five years from 1900 to 1905.

The deposits in the banks and trust companies were $600,000,000 greater in 1905 than in 1890.

Add these permanent increases of farm values and bank deposits to the yearly gains from manufactures and from farm products. What is the result? You have an aggregate that may well startle. Who of us realize the magnitude of $12,000,000,000? By comparison, we know that this production of farm and factory and these increments on farm property and in bank deposits of the south for fifteen years represent more than the stock of gold, silver and paper money in the entire world today.

But better than that, we know that they represent magnificent progress toward the financial and industrial independence of this great section of our common country.

PARLEZ-VOUS, FRANCAIS?

New York's Fashionable Doggies Can Understand Nothing Else.

"Oh, it's just a waste of breath to speak English to Bijou, for he doesn't understand anything but French," was the statement made by the owner of a beautiful Pomeranian to a guest who had been trying in vain to make friends with the pet dog of her hostess. "In fact, we don't want him to hear English spoken for fear he'll get the two languages mixed and that would be a pity, as he understands French so perfectly."

"I suppose it seems ridiculous, but I know at least a dozen pet dogs who don't understand a single word of English, not a syllable. They know everything that's said to them in French, but the minute any one speaks English they assume the most bored expression you ever saw on any dog's face."

"You can order them all you like in English, all to no purpose. The poor little dears simply don't know what you're talking about, but one command in French will reduce them to subjection in a second."

Just now in New York the French understanding dog is much sought after. Holding a beautiful spaniel on her lap, a pet dog enthusiast explained the other day why French was the accepted language of the thoroughly smart dog world.

"We have three dogs in our family and not one of them understands a word of English," she said. "This may seem strange, but when you consider how many New York families spend months each year on the continent, traveling with French chauffeurs, French maids, French governesses for the children, you can readily understand how easily French becomes the adopted language of the household. In fact if you listen to the groups of children on their way to school in the morning with their governesses, you'll find that twice as much French is spoken as English. I've noticed it myself many a morning on Fifth avenue, when I've accompanied the dogs and the children to school."

"Consequently, the dogs don't hear much else spoken but French and that's why when English is spoken in their presence it makes absolutely no impression upon them. Our dogs are with the children or myself constantly. They walk and drive with us."

"In the nursery the children include the dogs in all their little games. These are in French and the dogs understand every word that's said. I've seen the children play the same games in English, but the dogs absolutely refuse to take part in the performance. It's funny, but it's true."

"The governor put his arm around Peck's neck and wept for joy. He drove back to the Copeland house, where the candidates were still lined up, and told them the thing was settled—that Peck had the job."

"Quicker than a bunch of cats the candidates rushed away, and the governor went to bed for the first time in a week. As you may know, Peck the next day declined the honor, but the governor in the meantime had selected Congressman Perkins from his own town. Coburn needn't put on airs for refusing a senatorship."

VISITING DIVINE PREACHES HERE

REV. PIQUE OCCUPIES PULPIT OF METHODIST MISSION.

The Ramsey Society Will Meet This Afternoon at the Broadway Methodist Church.

This evening at 8 o'clock Rev. Pique will be here from Fulton, Ky., to fill the pulpit of the Methodist mission church on West Tennessee street. He is one of the ablest divines in the ministry, and will be greeted by an overflowing house eager to hear one of his good sermons.

Minister Departed.

Rev. Davenport left yesterday for his home in St. Louis after assisting Rev. Peter Fields for the past six weeks with the great revival meeting at the Third street Methodist church conducted under the huge tent on South Fifth street.

Ramsey Society.

The Ramsey society will hold an important meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church, and it is desired that every member be present.

Ladies Mite Society.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Ladies Mite society of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Street of 1107 Monroe street.

The Philathea Club.

The Philathea club of the First Baptist church will take supper at Wallace park this evening, and all the members are invited to attend.

SENATOR FOR A NIGHT

Colonel Peck, of Kansas, Took the Job Once to Save the Governor's Life.

"Coburn, of Kansas, wasn't the only citizen of the Sunflower state who declined the senatorial toga," said a graybeard in Kansas politics.

"There was Peck. A vacancy was created in the senate, by the death of Preston B. Plumb, colleague of iridescent Ingalls. The legislature was not in session, and it was up to old Governor Humphrey to make an appointment."

"The activity of the politicians on this occasion made Iowa and Indiana look as if they were hitched to a gravestone. It was almost impossible for a stranger to get a bed or a bite to eat in Topeka unless he was a candidate for Plumb's shoes."

Poor old Humphrey didn't get a wink of sleep for a week. Finally, after all the buttons had been pulled off the governor's coat, he jumped in a carriage late at night and told the driver to land him at the home of George R. Peck, who at the time was general counsel of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system. Peck was in bed, but the governor pounded on the door until the attorney stuck his head out of the window in a snowstorm and wanted to know who was there.

"The Governor quickly told. Without waiting to put on his party clothes Peck hurried downstairs to receive his visitor."

"The governor was a plain man, honest and bluff. I have it from mighty good authority that the interview was as follows:

"The Governor—George, for heaven's sake, take this senatorship so I can get some sleep. There are 40 men at the Copeland house who are after it, and I want somebody to take it who hasn't asked for it."

"Colonel Peck—But, Governor, I don't want the job."

"The Governor—I know you don't give a d—n for it, George, and that's why I want you to take it. You're probably the only man in Kansas who isn't after it."

"Colonel Peck—I can't take it, governor, I'm a busy man, and the interests of the company I represent—"

"Governor—Hang the company! Take it for tonight, anyhow. Will you do that?"

"Colonel Peck—If it will help you, governor, I will think it over until morning, so you can get some sleep and save your life."

"The governor put his arm around Peck's neck and wept for joy. He drove back to the Copeland house, where the candidates were still lined up, and told them the thing was settled—that Peck had the job."

"Quicker than a bunch of cats the candidates rushed away, and the governor went to bed for the first time in a week. As you may know, Peck the next day declined the honor, but the governor in the meantime had selected Congressman Perkins from his own town. Coburn needn't put on airs for refusing a senatorship."

OKLAHOMA AND STATEHOOD

By the signature of the president, June 15, the bill conferring statehood, so far as congress may act, upon Indian Territory and Oklahoma, has become a law. This legislation, much to be desired, is the culmination of a bitter political fight of four years, and characterized by the selfishness which marks and spoils politics in congress. The law creating this new state is only an enabling measure, although the two territories will quickly embrace this opportunity of statehood. The act directs the people of the two great territories to vote for delegates to a constitutional convention at the next November election, says the Jackson, (Tenn.) Whig.

The constitution adopted by this act directs the people of the two territories to vote for delegates to a constitutional convention at the next convention must be referred to the people for ratification. If the people reject it; then the constituencies of the two great territories decline statehood, and congress will have to pass a new enabling act to grant them admission to the union. The new state will receive the name of Oklahoma and will come into the sisterhood with every circumstance of good fortune. From the state its power in congress and in the electoral college will be so considerable that, infant of states though it be, its direct influence on law-making and president making will be greater than that of any one of several states. This new state, of greater area than Illinois, will have two senators and five representatives, the number of the latter being based upon the aggregate population of the two territories, which in 1900 was about 800,000. Actually it will probably start with more than 1,000,000 people, many of them coming from older parts of the Union and naturally restive amid the limitations of territorial government. A great state will be Oklahoma—in agricultural and mining resources powerful, as purchaser and consumer powerful, in politics powerful. The capital of the new state will be at Guthrie until 1913; therefore there will be no bitter and demoralizing fight over this traditionally troublesome proposition. The people will be permitted to choose their capital, but not until the two great consolidated communities know their own minds and can act with deliberation.

The state will start with a fine school fund, based upon all public lands, both agricultural and mining, said lands not to be sold until 1915. The income, however, from this public property may become immediate, because both classes may be leased for the benefit of education.

CLAIM NOTICE.

McCracken Circuit Court, John Rock, assignee of the Paducah Towing Co., plaintiff, vs. petition equity, Paducah Towing Company, etc., defendants.

Ordered that this action be referred to Cecil Reed, master, commissioner of the McCracken Circuit Court, to take proof of assets and liabilities of the assigned estate of Paducah Towing Company, and all persons having claims against said company are required to properly verify and file the same before said commissioner on or before the 1st day of the next September term of the McCracken Circuit Court, or they will be forever barred from asserting any claims against the assets in the hands of the assignee unadministered, and all persons are hereby enjoined and restrained from collecting their claims against said company except through this suit. And it is ordered that this order be published in the "Paducah Daily Register" as required by law.

ENGLISH RAILROADS AND AMERICAN RAILROADS

The superiority of the American workingman and American railroads was never better illustrated than by the terrible wreck which occurred in England Saturday, says the Chicago Examiner.

Two reads were contesting for speed records. They were running trains as hard as they could.

The result was a wreck and twenty-three good Americans were killed.

The engine was going on a curve through a railroad station at top speed. Now, an American would have made the same time from Plymouth to London as the English engineer tried to make and would have brought his passengers through safely. He would have run the train at top speed on good stretches, but in going through towns and past stations and around sharp curves he would have slowed down.

On the fast trains running east and west from Chicago, if the engineers would run at top speed every moment, there would be no end of wrecks. These men, though, have initiative and ingenuity.

Where the track is good and clear they run as hard as they can go. In other places they slow down. The American superintendent asks his engineer to make time, but does not tell him how to make it. The English superintendent tells his engineer to make time by going at top speed the entire distance.

And, again, the American day coaches are bad enough, but the English day coaches are absurdly frail. The trucks are not as large as the trucks of Chicago street cars, and the coaches themselves resemble the closed North Clark street cable cars. Naturally, when they jump the track, the break into a thousand pieces.

The Englishman also holds to the idea that the baggage van should be in the rear of the train. If the baggage van had been right behind the locomotive fewer Americans would have been killed.

Top speed in America is safer than top speed in England, because in America the engineer uses his brains as much as his hands, while the English workingman is not permitted to use his brains, but is merely expected to act as a dumb ox.

Troubles of the Rich.
Oil Magnate—Ah, my boy, a lonely position is a hard one.
Skeptical Friend—In what way?
Oil Magnate—If I heard my wealth they say I'm a skinflint, and if I give my money away they say I am trying to ease my guilty conscience.—Tit Bits.

A Genius.
"Yes, I think my new son-in-law has a genius for finance."
"Has he been making money on stocks?"
"No; but he's just got home after a three weeks' vacation, with $7.50 in cash."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Irresistible.
"I saw Grumby talking to you yesterday. I thought you said he never spoke to you any more?"
"He doesn't, usually, but he noticed I had a cold, and he couldn't resist the temptation to tell me an unfailing remedy for it."—Cleveland Leader.

Natural Aptitude.
"What profession will your son follow?"
"Haven't decided! If his hair is especially luxuriant I'll advise him to be a musician. If his beard is particularly heavy I'll tell him to be a physician."— Washington Star.

SECRETS.

Reassured.
"You haven't married me just to spite somebody, have you?" she asked, looking anxiously up into his honest blue eyes.
"No, dear," he absent-mindedly replied. "I took you for your money alone."—Record-Herald.

On Strike.
Jim—Say, Molke, is Pat out or

Yah!—Chicago Sun.

All Is Revealed.
"Do you believe it is true that half the world doesn't know how the other half lives?"
"No. They're building all the apartment houses with shafts now."— Cleveland Leader.

Fairly Eclipsed in It.
"Our office boy dropped into poetry yesterday."
"How was that?"
"The literary editor kicked him into the waste basket!"—Cleveland Leader.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR

Regular Price $8.50 per pair.
To Introduce
We Will Sell
You a Sample
Pair for Only $4.80
(CASH WITH ORDER $4.80)
NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.

Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CAC-TUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS.
Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.
Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval.
You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.
We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

built-up wheels, saddles, pedals, parts and repairs, and everything in the bicycle line are sold by us at half the usual prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDRY catalogue.
DO NOT WAIT to write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

it by the city, wherein the concern is permitted to lay tracks over certain new streets in the city.

The Anheuser-Busch brewery complained that its property here was assessed entirely too high for city tax purposes, and asked for relief. The matter was referred to the board of supervisors.

The city treasurer's report for June was filed, showing a balance on hand the first of last month of $68,705.07; expenditures during month, $20,980.81, while the collections made a balance July 1st of $112,393.78.

Bills amounting to $39,737.25 were allowed, as were the payrolls.

Second adoption was given the ordinance creating the position of engineer for the fire department, the incumbent to get $75 per month, execute a $1,000 bond for faithful performance of his duties, and be not older than 50 years of age.

First passage was given the ordinance calling for concrete sidewalks on Fourth between Norton and Husbands streets.

Second adoption was given the bill calling for concrete sidewalks on Washington from Second to Third.

The ordinance providing for brick streets on First from Broadway to Washington, was given final adoption.

Second passage was given an ordinance stipulating that Hays avenue from Sowell to Bridge street, and Sowell from Hays to Ashcraft avenue, shall be graded and graveled.

The board held up until next Tuesday the question of giving second passage to the ordinance providing that Washington from First to Second be improved with brick, and that brick be used as sidewalks instead of concrete, in order that heavy wagons can back up to the doors of the wholesale houses along the block. The aldermen are undecided whether or not to do away with the sidewalks.

First and second passage was given the bill permitting merchants to let their awnings hang down as far as eight feet above the sidewalks.

There was killed the ordinance providing that fuel, forage and groceries shall be bought for the city by bid each month, the lowest bidder getting the contract. The ordinance read that the city weigher should do the advertising for bids, and it is not legal to let any employee of the municipality do this.

Adoption was given the resolution stipulating that storm and sanitary sewers shall be laid in that territory bounded by Norton, Trimble, Thirteenth street, and the river.

To the street committee was there passed the request of parties owning property along where Fountain avenue would run, if extended from Broadway to the Mayfield road. The property owners want to give enough of their private ground for the public thoroughfare to be run through.

An ordinance was ordered brought in providing for concrete sidewalks on Farley street, and then down Meyers street to the Fourth street bridge across Island creek.

To the street committee was referred the request of property owners that Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets be opened, graded and graveled, through the Glenwood addition behind Oak Grove cemetery.

The street committee was directed to see if it should get dedicated to the city, enough private property to extend Broad street across Cross creek to Brown street, and Brown street down to Caldwell street.

Report was made that next Monday there would arrive here representatives from electrical houses over the country to furnish propositions, stipulating what machinery will be supplied for enlargement of the city's electric lighting plant.

The street committee reported it had not yet decided what recommendation it would make on the request of the street railway company, that the latter be sold a franchise permitting the car line to run its tracks out Broadway from Fountain avenue to Nineteenth street, and then along the latter highway to the Mayfield road. The committee wants to look further into the proposition.

The board ratified the sale by D. F. Smith of one half of his Oak Grove burying lot to J. G. Smith, Sr.

To the cemetery committee for investigation was referred the request of Mrs. Carrie Girardey regarding a deed being executed to her for a cemetery lot bought from another party.

The board accepted the offer of W. C. O'Bryan of $1,000 for the old pesthouse ground of two acres, lying near the city's old poor farm on West Tennessee street. O'Bryan gives $300 cash and the balance in deferred payments bearing interest.

It was ordered that the Holcomb Lobbie company of Chicago, be released from paying city taxes here on the steamboats they operate out of Paducah. It was shown the company paid taxes in this property at
